As I wrote about in last week's print edition , tonight is one of the funkier in recent memory.

That's because funk and jazz legend Maceo Parker is playing the Tower Theatre and up-and-coming horn player

Trombone Shorty

is out at the

Sisters Folk Festival Winter Concert Series

with his funky band, Orleans Avenue. Tickets are still available for both shows, so your options are still wide open.

Maceo Parker kicks off at 7pm tonight, as does Trombone Shorty. Whatever you do, get out to one of these shows. It's important to get funky on St. Patrick's Day Eve.

Here's some video evidence in case you need some convincing.
